Documentation Requirement

Every file must contain a documentation or flower box at the top of the program before any preprocessor directives.

```
/*-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

    Program Name:

    Programmer Name:

    Program Description/Purpose:

    Date:

-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------*/
```

Every function definition must have the following documentation box before the function header start.

```
/*-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

    Function Name:

    Function Return Type:

    Parameters:

    Function Description/Purpose:

    -------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------*/
```